Thalassemia Test

Date: 13/01/2025

On January 13th 2025, students from Neotech Institute of Pharmacy participated in a Thalassemia testing event. The students were informed about Thalassemia, including information about Thalassemia major and minor and the test conducted was specifically for detecting Thalassemia minor.

The testing was carried out by a team from the Red Cross Society, and interested students volunteered to provide samples for the test. This event helped raise awareness about Thalassemia and provided students with the opportunity to learn more about the condition, especially Thalassemia minor.
